

COVID-19 TESTING INFORMATION

If you feel symptomatic for COVID-19, you should get tested. If you have been directly exposed to a person with COVID-19, you should get tested 5-6 days after the exposure. Most insurance plans cover the cost of testing.

For information on free testing events: Go to www.covid19.ncdhhs.gov and select “find my testing place.” From there, select “no-cost community event finder option” to see currently scheduled events. Click on the + next to the event you’re interested in for more information.

Local Providers: Contact your primary care provider to see if they offer testing.
